JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 8, 1904.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

PERFECTED BY DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION

An Ovation Given Bryan at Afternoon Session---Champions Cause of Illinois Contestants, but Meets With Defeat---Champ Clark Permanent Chairman.

St. Louis, July 7.—The Democratic national convention to day adopted the report of the committees on rules, credentials and permanent organization. The session opened at 10 o'clock, an hour later took a recess until 2 p. m. and adjourned at 6:20 until 10 o'clock to morrow.

During the day several speeches were made, chief of which was Bryan's effort to overthrow the report of the credentials committee and seat the contesting delegates from Illinois. The controversy was ended by the rejection of the minority report of the committee by a vote of 647 nays to 299 ayes. Though Bryan's speech and his appearance on the floor was cheered far beyond the previous demonstration it made few votes.

The alignment of delegates proved the correctness of previous estimates of division between those who favor the radicals and those who are supporting the conservative element, which is now in control.

When the result of the contest was announced the report of the committee on permanent organization was made. Representative Champ Clark, who was chosen chairman, addressed the convention. He had prepared and furnished to the press a speech of great length. The hour was so late when he gained the platform, however, that he spoke about three hundred words and left his audience to read the remainder.

OVATION GIVEN BRYAN.

The ovation given Bryan was one of the greatest ever transpiring at any of the notable events for which the immense Coliseum is familiar. It was begun before the afternoon session was called to order and continued twelve minutes with so much fury that Temporary Chairman Williams and all his assistants, including a hundred policemen, were unable to restore order. Quiet came from the convention only after the Parker forces joined in and by persistent efforts turned the tide by a great counterdemonstration for the New Yorker, so that the favorite candidate for the nomination for president finally reaped the harvest of enthusiasm shown for Bryan.

The morning session was without real interest except for dissension caused by that part of the report of the committee on rules which provides for the seating of delegates sent in by insular possessions. The delegates from the Philippines were finally ruled out.

It remained for the afternoon session to create that degree of strife which makes a convention interesting to the masses. This was the contest relating to the Illinois delegation. It was known that Bryan would take an active part in the matter at odds believed to be overwhelmingly against him. Practically every seat was occupied and the aisles were crowded. The increased attendance to a great extent was because of the fact that Bryan was to speak on a matter sure to engender feeling and a spirited debate.

When Bryan entered the first sound of applause in the vicinity of the Nebraska delegation drew every gaze in that direction. As if to make up for the tardy welcome extended Bryan yesterday, great numbers opened the cheering simultaneously from the center galleries. That there should be no misunderstanding in regard to whom was the object of the ovation the Nebraska delegates wrenched from the floor the standard marking their location in the hall and waved the banner high above all others. That was a signal for Bryan's following to congregate about their leader. Following the Nebraska delegates' example other anti-Parker states tore loose their standards and rallied about Bryan's. For a short time some degree of organization was maintained among the majority of the delegates, but the sight of great human walls forming the galleries shouting themselves hoarse, throwing and waving hats, umbrellas and coats, and many persons on the platform yelling motioning encouragement, proved too much for the more orderly delegates to withstand. They joined with the demonstrative ones until the thunderous applause was converted into a deafening roar. As the applause opened Temporary Chairman Williams, who was ready to call the convention to order, started in to subdue it with his gavel. Soon that was drowned out completely. Seeing he was getting no aid from his fellow convention officials, Williams contented himself with desultory pounding with his mallet, which could be seen but not heard. The confusion in the hall was unprecedented. Strong-lunged admirers of the Nebraskan openly left seats in the spectators' reservation and massed about the Nebraska delegation. The noise of the demonstration increased in volume even after it seemed the limit of endurance must have been reached. All other displays of enthusiasm were dwarfed in comparison.

After the applause had continued unbroken for more than fifteen minutes Williams again tried to get the attention of the delegates and motioned the band to play. Again and again he signalled the musicians, only to learn later that the instruments were pouring out all the volume of which they were capable. Not a note could be heard on the speaker's platform, unless it was listened for intently.

CHEERS FOR PARKER.

Then it was that the conservative forces turned to the aid of the chair. They started applause for Parker. His name on a purple banner proved almost as magnetic as Bryan in the flesh. From one idol to another the gathering turned. The Georgia delegation, carrying the Parker banner, marched to the platform and the cheering was increased, if that were possible. The applause was general, coming from delegates, from the galleries and other parts of the Coliseum. The South Carolina standard was held beside the Georgia banner. Inasmuch as the South Carolina delegation was originally anti-Parker, the movement was significant. Other delegations followed and soon the standards of Arkansas, Pennsylvania, Indiana, New Jersey, Alabama and others which could be removed from the floor were uplifted over the platform. Some of the standards which were marched to the Parker rally a few minutes before had been a part of the Bryan demonstration.

ORDER SECURED.

At 2:30 the temparary chairman was able to make himself heard and called for the report of the committee on credentials. There was a long delay. Chairman Head could not be found. Bryan, custodian of the minority report, thinking Head was on his way to the platform, made his own way to the front and appeared on the stage. That provoked another outburst, which could not be quelled for two minutes or more. The confusion was so great that Williams used a megaphone to make himself heard and various delegates used similar instruments in addressing the chair. About 3 o'clock Head reached the platform. He was listened to attentively as he read his report and moved its adoption. After disposing of other contests the Illinois case was brought before the convention. By agreement fifteen minutes was allotted each side and Bryan opened for the minority.

Major Menzies of Indiana followed, speaking for the credentials committee, and he by Quinn, who was the chairman of the Illinois convention. Bryan again spoke briefly and arguments were closed by Head. The roll was called and the credentials committee report adopted.

The report of the committee on permanent organization was made. Senator Bailey of Texas and Representative Cockran escorted Representative Champ Clark to the platform to assume the chairmanship. At the conclusion of his speech the convention adjourned.

CLARK'S SPEECH.

Clark began by saying the Republican platform adopted at Chicago contained more mendacity in the same space than any other document purporting to be a grave state paper. He then said:

"In the impending conflict our quarrel is just and we are in the right beyond all cavil. To state it in a general way, is that the government shall be restored to the democratic-republican basis on which the fathers of the republic intended it to rest—government of the people, by the people and for the people, instead of government of classes, by the classes and for the classes. To state it with more particularity, we insist that exhorbitant taxation shall be reduced to a just and reasonable rate, that exxtravagance in appropriations shall cease, that economy shall prevail in all transactions of government, that all departments shall be thoroughly nvestigated from top to bottom by congressional committees, that all evil doers of whatever degree shall be driven from public service and properly punished, that trusts shall be proceeded against by indictment, as are common smaller criminals, that the constitution accompanies the American flag into our new possessons."

The speaker declared the proposition that support must be given Roosevelt's Philippine policy as the veriest rot and then turned attention to the tariff question. He said the Democrats favored cutting down of exhorbitant tariff rates to a reasonable basis. He denied the Democracy ever was or is a free trade party and claimed that the "Iowa idea," which Secretary Shaw, he said, denounced as "dead," was borrowed from the Democrats and is far from "dead." Clark said that a trust has nothing to fear from Republican trust-busters, and charged that the appointment of ex-Attorney General Knox to succeed Quay in the United States senate was brought about through the efforts of Mr. Frick, the heaviest stockholder in the steel trust, President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad, one of the defendants in the coal trust case now pending, and Donald Cameron, representing the Standard Oil trust and Wall street interests. He said the trusts were either anxious to get Knox out of the attorney general's office because they fear him more than any other lawyer, or else Knox's anti-trust crusade had been a bunko game from the beginning and that Frick, Cassatt and Cameron, together with those whom they represent, procured for him (Knox) the senatorship as a reward for favors already rendered trusts secretly while in the cabinet and to be hereafter rendered in the senate.

"According to press reports," concluded the speaker, "Roosevelt stood by consenting to the transfer of Knox from the cabinet to the senate just as Paul stood by consenting to the stoning of Stephen."

Chairman Clark in closing said: "The Democrats divide all imports into three classes—necessities, comforts and luxuries—and contend that the tariff taxes should be the highest on luxuries, lower on comforts and lowest or none at all on necessities."

ILLINOIS CONTEST

Majority and Minority Reports of Credentials Committee.

St. Louis, July 7.—The report of the credentials committee in the Illinois case in part says:

"Your committee gave to each of the contestants and contestees who desired to appear before us all the time it was possible to do and in each case by asking such questions as occurred to any member of the committee endeavored to ascertain as near as could be all the important facts bearing upon each contest. In the state of Illinois, however, the several contesting congressional districts were asked to select three representatives to speak for all the contests and that state.

"In the matter of contests from Districts 2, 3, 6, 9, 10, 11, 12, 15, 16, 18, 23 and 25, and the seats of Ben S. Cable and John P. Hopkins from the state at large in Illinois, your committee recommend that the delegations as named by the national committee are entitled to seats in this convention as regularly accredited delegates and alternates.

"In the matter of contest from the 21st district, state of Illinois, your committee report that the names of Alfred Orendorff and A. B. Corman as delegates and J. N. C. Shumway and Jesse F. Griffin as alternates are entitled to seats in this convention as properly accredited delegates and alternates."

MINORITY REPORT.

The minority report that Bryan moved as asubstitute for the majority report began thus:

"Illinois has a state central committee with one John P. Hopkins as its head. Finding itself in the minority in the state convention, said committee deliberately planned to override the Democratic vote of the state and secured by fraud and intimidation a majority of delegates to the national committee. To this end they brought contests in a number of districts outside of those controlled by said committee and placed their own men upon the temporary roll call of the convention.

"Then they had a credentials committee made up and as far as possible had district members of the credentials committee taken from contestants whom they had seated. This credentials committee, without the intention to go into the merits of the contest, seated the Hopkins delegates in every instance. A minority report of the committee on credentials presented a report, but Mr. Quinn, chairman of the convention, declared that the minority report was only advisory and would be filed for ecord. He then put a vote upon the majority report and declared it carried and refused a roll call, although it was then and there demanded.

"In the hearing before the credentials committee of this Democratic convention but a very limited amount of time was allowed for consideration of this contest, so short a time that it was impossible to present the evidence to the committee, the time being consumed in arguments made by attorneys for the contestants and contestees."

The report concludes: "Under all circumstances," he said, "the minority believe that it is imperatively necessary that this convention shall repudiate the outrageous action of the convention of Illinois. To do otherwise is to disregard the principles of the Democratic party."

Immediately after concluding reading of the minority report Bryan was recognized to speak in behalf of his motion to substitute the minority for the majority report. In opening his speech Bryan announced that he had not come to the convention with the idea of bringing up any questions that could or would create division. He was greeted by cheers and when he declared that he hoped and believed the convention would select a ticket which could be supported by a united Democracy the cheers were redoubled. Bryan became very denunciatory. He contended the action of the Hopkins element in Illinois was like to that of "ordinary train robbers" and argued at great length in favor of the minority report.

Menzies of Indiana followed in opposition to Bryan. His speech was from the outset bitter and he criticised Bryan for coming into Illinois to take part in this contest.

Quinn, Illinois, who was chairman of the Illinois convention, was the next speaker. He defended the action of the state convention and declared himself a good Democrat—"so good a Democrat," he said, "that I never call a man a train robber and a thief unless I know the facts." He also criticised Bryan for what he termed his interference in Illinois affairs.

Bryan concluded the discussion in a second speech, in which he maintained the positon he had already taken and insisted that the action of the national committee was an approval of the claim that fraud had been committed in Illinois.

AN INVITATION

Message to Bryan From Prohibition Candidate for President

Harrisburg, Pa., July 7.—Rev. Dr. Silas C. Swallow, the Prohibition nominee for president, to night sent the following to William J. Bryan at St. Louis:

"My Dear Bryan: Read Numbers, 10th chapter, 29th verse. Come."

The following is the verse:

"And Mose said unto Hobab, the son of Raguel, the Midianite, Moses' father-in-law, we are journeying unto the place of which the Lord said, I will give it to you; come thou with us and we will do thee good, for the Lord has spoken good concerning Israel."

JUDGE PARKER

Esopus, N. Y., July 7.—Judge Parker was inaccessible to visitors to day. He spent the morning in his study attending to business. Reports of the convention were telephoned to Private Secretary McCasland, who communicated the news to Parker, but otherwise there was nothing to indicate the remotest interest in St. Louis.

IN FAOR OF GOVERNMENT.

Washington, July 7.—The district supreme court to day decided in favor of the government in the case of Anna Bowes and others against the secretary of the interior. The effect of the decision is to stop cattle companies from misuse of soldiers' homestead rights belonging to widows so as to secure large bodies of land without compliance with the law by the entry women. It is stated it does not take away privileges given under the law.

TIBETAN PEACE DELEGATES.

Gyangtse, Tibet, July 7.—A messenger from the British expedition was sent to the Tibetan peace delegates to day to inform them that Colonel Younghusband was still willing to treat with them, provided they arrive at the place appointed within a reasonable time. Sappers have been engaged all day in destroying fortifications of the jong.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE.

Detroit, July 7.—The board of managers of the Baptist Young People's union at the opening session to day of the fourteenth international convention made the important recommendation that the society hereafter hold biennial instead of annual conventions.

PROHIBITION HEADQUARTERS.

Chicago, July 7.—Oliver W. Stewart, chairman of the Prohibition national committee, has opened campaign headquarters for the committee in the Woman's temple, 184 La Salle street.

FAIRBANKS BACK HOME.

Indianapolis, July 7.—Senator Fairbanks, Republican candidate for vice president, returned home to day from Michigan. After attending to some private business he will go to Oyster Bay.

CARDINAL SATOLLI.

St. Louis, July 7.—After a ten days stay here Cardinal Satolli left to day in a special train over the Vandalia for Indianapolis.

STRIKE AT HAVANA.

Havana, July 7.—A strike of harbor workers was inaugurated to day. The tie-up is complete.

PARKER ON FIRST BALLOT

IS WHAT HIS FOLLOWERS CLAIM

Vote on Illinois Case Was a Test of Strength—Talk of Illinois Deserting Hearst—Convention Will End to Day.

St. Louis, July 7.—Before to morrow night the Democratic convention will have adopted a platform, nominated candidates for president and vice president and adjourned sine die if the program of the leaders can be carried out. The Parker men are now talking of securing his nomination on the first ballot, but they do not anticipate more than two ballots at the outside will be necessary.

The vote to day on the Illinois case was a test and favorable to Parker. There were 916 votes cast out of the 1,000 in the convention, the fifty-four of Illinois being withheld. The negative vote on Bryan's minority report was 647, which is twenty votes sohrt of the necessary two-thirds to nominate. It represented, with some exceptions, the Parker strength, although it has in it also some of the opposition, including the thirty-two votes of Massachusetts. At the same time there were cast on the other side the eighteen votes of outh Carolina, twenty-six of Kentucky and eighteen of Louisiana, making a total of sixty-two from states that have declared for Parker. Deducting thirty-two of Massachusetts and adding sixty-two votes of Parker states gives a total of 677 which may be classed as Parker, with some exceptions from smaller states, which did not vote Parker or anti-Parker on the contested case. It would seem likely these few votes would be balanced by those who voted in the affirmative to day and are likely to vote for Parker to morrow.

MAY DESERT HEARST.

But in addition to the 677 votes accounted for are fifty-four in Illinois ready to come to Parker when he needs them. There is a report to night that the Illinois delegation, under instructions for Hearst, may feel they are no longer obligated to vote for him, because the Hearst men all joined in the effort to unseat them. At all events it would seem that Illinois is in a position to make Parker's nomination sure even if some votes cast that were in the negative column should be cast for some other candidates for president.

The anti-Parker men are building some hopes on the action of the subcommittee on the platform in adopting the gold standard and asserting some southern states instructed or pledged for Parker will desert him if the convention adopts the gold standard plank.

With the end of the convention in sight there is still a chaotic condition in regard to the vice presidency and the outlook now is that a large number of candidates will be voted for and perhaps several ballots taken before any one is chosen.

STORM VICTIMS

Oklahoma City, O. T., July 7.—A waterspout, accompanied by a terrific wind, passed through Clinton, O. T., and vicinity last midnight, in which six persons were killed and several injured. The dead are:

MRS. BAKER AND THREE CHILDREN

MR. AND MRS. JOHN FLENNER.

All were drowned.

Reports from other points in western Oklahoma tell of great damage by floods.

WATER IS RISING.

Mrs. George W. Scott has received word from her brother, Harry W. Duckett, who resides in Kansas City, Kan., that owing to the high water it has been necessary to remove his family to a place of safety. Mr. Duckett was a victim of the great flood that swept down the Missouri and Mississippi rivers a year ago.

To night he sent a telegram to Secretary of War Taft that "ten thousand people have been driven from their homes in Kansas City, Kan., by floods" and asking for rations for them.

PARTY PRINCIPLES

Text of Platform Reported by Sub-Committee.

St. Louis, July 7.—The following is the text of the platform reported by the subcommittee to the full committee, which is still in session:

"We, the delegates of the Democratic party of the United States in national convention assembled, declare our devotion to the essential principles of the Democratic faith which brings us together in party communion.

"Under them local self-government and national unity and prosperity were alike established. They underlaid our independence, the structure of our free republic, and every Democratic extension from Louisiana to California and Texas to Oregon, which preserves faithfully in all states the tie between taxation and representation.

"They yet inspire the masses of our people, guarding jealously their rights and liberties and cherishing their fraternity, peace and orderly development. They remind us of our duties and responsibilities as citizens and impress upon us, particularly at this time, the necessity of reform and rescue of the administration of the government from headstrong, arbitrary and spasmodic methods which distract business by uncertainty, and pervade the public mind with dread, distrust and perturbation.

"The application of these fundamental principles to living issues of the day constitutes the first step toward the assured peace, safety and progress of our nation.

"The freedom of the press, of conscience and of speech; equality before the law of all citizens; the right of trial by jury; the freedom of the person defended by writ of habeas corpus; the liberty of personal contract untrammeled by sumptuary laws; supremacy of civil over military authority; a well disciplined militia; the separation of church and state; economy in expenditures; low taxes, that labor may be lightly burdened; the prompt and sacred fulfillment of public and private obligations; fidelity to treaties, peace and friendship with all nations and entangling alliances with none; absolute acquiescence in the will of the majority, the vital principles of republics—these are the doctires which the Democracy has established as proverbs of the nation and they should be constantly invoked, preached, resorted to and enforced:

"1. Large reductions can readily be made in the annual expenditures of the government without impairing the efficiency of any branch of the pulic service, and we shall insist upon the strictest economy and frugality compatible with vigorous and efficient civil, military and naval administration as a right of the people too clearly to be denied or withheld.

"2 Enforcement of honesty in public service, and to that end thorough legislative investigation of those executive departments already known to teem with corruption, as well as other departments suspected of harboring corruption, and the punishment of ascertained corruptionits without fear of favor to persons.

"The deliberate and persistent refusal of both the senate and house of representatives to permit such investigations to be made by either branch of congress demonstrated that only by change in the executive and in the house of representatives can complete exposure, punishment and correction be obtained.

"In broader furtherance of that end the federal government should not permit itself to be robbed by entering into contracts with convicted trusts or unlawful combinations in restraint of interstate trade, existing in violation of law. We believe one of the best methods of procuring economy and honesty in public service is to have public officials from the occupant of the white house to the lowest of them, return as nearly as may be, to the Jeffersonian simplicity of living.

"3. We favor the nomination and election of a president trained in the ways of the constitution, who shall set his face sternly against executive usurpaton of legislative and judicial functions whether tht usurpato be rules under the guise of executive construction or existing laws, or whether it take refuge in a tyrant's pleas of necessity or superior wisdom.

TRUSTS.

"4. The Democratic party has been and will continue to be the consistent opponent of that class of tariff legislation by which certain interests have been permitted, through congressional favor, to draw heavy tribute from the American people. This monstrous perversion of those equal opportunities, which our political institutions were established to secure, has caused what may once have been infant industries to become the greatest combinations of capital the world has ever known. These publicly favored enterprises have through trust methods been converted into monopolies, thus bringing to an end domestic competition, which was the only check upon extravagant profits made possible by the protective system. These industrial combinations, by the financial assistance they can give, now control the policy of the Republican party.

TARIFF.

"We favor a wise, conservative and business-like revision and gradual reduction of the tariff by friends of the masess and for the common weal, and not by friends of its abuses, its extortions and

EXISTENCE OF GREAT DANGER TO SOLDIERS

The Dread Disease Has Appeared at Antung—Japanese Gunboat Sunk—Other Reports From Scene of War.

Washington, July 7.—A cable report from Minister Allen at Seoul points to the existence of great danger to both belligerent armies in Manchuria. He says that he has learned from a missionary surgeon that cholera has crossed Manchuria and appeared at Antung.

GUNBOAT SUNK.

Tokio, July 7.—The Japanese gunboat Kaimen struck a mine and sunk in Tallenwan bay July 5.

Washington, July 7.—The Japanese legation received the following from Tokio, dated to day:

"Admiral Togo reports that on July 5 our gunboat Kaimon, while on a special mission outside of Tallenwan in a dense fog, struck a Russian mine and sunk. Three officers, including Commander Takahashi, and nineteen petty officers and men are missing. The rest were saved."

RUSSIANS FORCED BACK.

Tatchekiao, July 6.—(Delayed.)—Japanese swarmed over the mountain cross early this morning and advanced on Kai Chou, compelling General Chirikoff with the center Russian vanguard to fall back. A whole brigade of Japanese with masses of cavalry followed and occupied the village of Nantay, routing out two companies of Russian infantry and two companies of Cossacks entrenched there. Japanese arrived within five miles of Kaiehou. It was then nightfall. Samsonoff made an heroic attempt to check the Japanese, galloping out with men to shell the Japanese left and inflicting great loss on them, but fearing retreat would be cut off he fell back and is now holding Kai Chou. Chirikoff's force is stationed southeast of Kai Chou.

Chefoo, July 7.—In fighting July 4 for possession of one of the hills northeast of Port Arthur the Russians lost, according to Chinese, one hundred killed and fifty wounded. The Japanese, having occupied the second range of hills around Port Arthur, are now massing men to march upon the Russian marine camp that commands the principal pass through the hills, which is directly back of Port Arthur. This camp is considered vital to the safety of the fortress and it is guarded, according to the Chinese, by 20,000 marines and sailors.

KANSAS CITY FLOOD

Kansas City, July 7.—One-half of Armourdale is unedr water from overflow of the Kaw river. The water is still rising at a rapid rate and conditions approaching the great flood of 1903 are feared. Lowlands of Argentine, Rosedale and other suburbs are also flooded and hundreds of laboring people have left their homes. West of Kansas City along the Kaw that stream is bank full and is doinging great damage at North Topeka, Lawrence and other parts and its tributaries are rising.

Wichita, Kan., July 7.—Wichita is flooded to day worse than ever before in its history. One of the principal residence streets is a raging torrent waist deep. People living within seven blocks of Little river have been forced to vacate homes.

The house of Cass Woods at Riverside Park was washed away. Mrs. Woods and two children were drowned.

Topeka, July 7.—Water in the Kaw river to day was above the 22 foot mark and rising slowly. In North Topeka water was running through the principal streets knee deep and the town is deserted. In Topeka proper the water is three blocks uptown from the river. Trains on the Union Pacific, Santa Fe and Rock Island are dbandoned east and west out of Topeka.

GOVERNOR IS RECEIVED

At Camp Lincoln by Second Regiment of National Guard—Will Break Camp To Day.

Springfield, July 7.—The first Governor's day at Camp Lincoln, which is being held to day, is proving most successful in every way. The Second regiment boys have taken a great deal of interest in the event ever since they have come here and everything has moved off smoothly.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the Third battalion, under command of Major Garrity, escorted the governor into the camp. At 4 o'clock the troops were reviewed by the governor. Dress parade will be held at 5 o'clock this evening and the soldiers will be in full dress uniform. The regiment is one of the best equipped in the state and will present a good appearance when it lines up for the best dress parade it has given.

At 6:30 o'clock this evening a dinner will be given to the officers by Adjutant General Scott. The band concert at 8 o'clock this evening will be given on "Officers hill" instead of from the band stand.

General Moulton, commander of the First brigade, arrived in camp yesterday evening, accompanied by his staff, composed of Colonel Ruinton, Colonel Thompson, Lieutenant Elliott and Lieutenant Martin. Colonel Moxley and Colonel Dietrich, of the governor's staff, have also arrived. They are taking part in the Governor's day exercises in camp to day.

Guard mount this morning was in the new regulation full dress uniform. The Second regiment is the first to appear in this new uniform. It is the same as that used in the regular army, but many of the regulars have not yet been supplied with the uniform.

The first serious case of sickness developed in camp yesterday, when the regimental physicians decided that Private Kudlee had appendicitis. He was sent to Chicago to be operated upon.

Mrs. Lieutenant Simpson arrived last night from Pawpaw, Mich., to join the ladies in camp.

To morrow will be the last day in camp for the Second regiment. The men will have the regular routine work to morrow, but early Saturday morning they will break camp and go to St. Louis for their week at the fair.

The detail of the First regiment, which will go into camp as the Second leaves, arrived last night and is preparing for the coming of that regiment. The detail is under the command of Quartermaster Knoch. The detachment arrived over the Illinois Central.

The Second regiment has made an excellent showing here and the boys are looking forward to the trip to St. Louis. They have been doing some hard work and expect to attract attention when they begin duty in the world's fair city.

PROPOSALS FOR COAL.

Sealed proposals will be received by the trustees of the Illinois General Hospital for the Insane, up to noon, July 19, 1904, for furnishing all the bituminous coal to be used in said hospital from the first day of August, 1904, to the 30th day of June, 1905, inclusive. Proposals shall be for screened lump, washed slack and mine run. Said coal to be delivered in coal houses of said hospital at such time and in such quantities as may be required by the superintendent of said hospital. The coal to be inspected by said superintendent, weighed on the hospital scales, and such weights to be considered correct in making settlement. The right is reserved to the said superintendent to reject any coal that fails in his judgment to meet the requirements as to quality, and such rejected coal shall not be paid for.

Proposals must specify the price per ton (2,000 pounds); must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for Coal," and directed to the superintendent of the hospital. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check of $100 as a guarantee that the contract will be accepted by the bidder if awarded. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a bond with approved securties in the sum of $2,000 for the faithful performance of the contract.

The trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids, and to re-advertise for bids at their option.

TREAT YOUR KIDNEYS FOR RHEUMATISM.

When you are suffering from rheumatism the kidneys must be attended to at once so that they will eliminate the uric acid from the blood. Foley's Kidney Cure is the most effective remedy for this purpose. R. T. Hopkins, of Polar, Wis., says: "After unsuccessfully doctoring three years for rheumatism with the best doctors, I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and it cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this great medicine." Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

CURED OF CHRONIC DIARRHOEA AFTER TEN YEARS OF SUFFERING.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chornic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by all leading druggists.

CHICAGO NOT LIABLE

Suit for Damages as Result of Theatre Fire Thrown Out of Court.

Chicago, Ill., July 7.—Litigation to the probable aggregate of $8,000,000 was discouraged to day when Judge Holdom, in the superior court, ruled that the city of Chicago was not liable in any degree for the Iroquois theater fire. A suit by Eva Catherine Gibson for $15,000 damages because of a broken arm and an injured spine was the case decided. Sixty other suits are pending, and had the decision been against the city hundreds of other actions probably would have been filed.

The opinion was on the city's demurrer to the averment that the theater was a public nuisance, and that the municipality was liable because of the dereliction of its officers in issuing a license before the theater had complied with the ordinance. But even had the playhouse been a nuisance in the legal meaning of that word the city would still not have been liable.

"A victory for the plaintiff would have meant that the city was the insurer of the lives and property of all its citizens," said Mr. Wharton. "Such a question would have been opposed to the fundamental principles of justice."

WHEN OTHER MEDICINES HAVE FAILED

ANENT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The excellent communication of Dr. M. H. Goodrick regarding the expense of attending the World's fair has evoked many favorable comments. So many people don't know how to manage that the expense attend the exhibition is more than it should be. The worthy doctor has given a good many sensible suggestions, and they will be of practical benefit to many if read and followed. The writer thinks he can go the doctor one better on necessary expenses though and will give the benefit of his experience.

W. H. Ezard, formerly of Woodson, this county, has a restaurant at 311 North Seventeenth street, where he serves meals and lunches at reasonable prices and rents rooms. If two or more persons occupy a room the charge for each person is 50 cents a day, transient.

The cost of a visit then to the fair was as follows:

Room rent, daily	$ 50
Entrance to fair	50
Two meals a day, breakfast and supper	40
Lunch to take to the fair for noon	15
Street care fare, both ways	10
Total	$ 1.65
Five days	$ 8.25
Railroad fare	2.95
Total for five days	$11.20

If the writer had had such lunch as the doctor took there should be a deduction of at least $1.50, making the five days $9.70, but this without ice cream, side shows, or any dispensable expenses. However, actual experience is valuable, and the above is just that. This is written not as an advertisement for Mr. Ezard, but for the benefit of those who want to attend the fair at the smallest possible expense.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested that the city council of the city of Jacksonville, having ordained that a brick pavement twenty-eight feet wide with stone or combination curb be constructed on East Morton avenue in said city from the east line of South Main street to the east line of Hardin avenue, the ordinance for the same being on file in the office of the city clerk, and have applied to the county court of Morgan county for an assessment of the costs of said improvement, according to benefits, and an assessment therefor having been made and returned to said court, the final hearing thereon will be had on the 28th day of July, A. D. 1904, or as soon thereafter as the business of the court will permit. All persons desiring may file objections in said court before said day and may appear on the hearing and make their defense.

Said special assessment shall be divided into ten installments, which installments shall all be equal in amount except that all fractional installments shall be added to the first, and shall be due and payable on the 2d day of January next after completion and acceptance of the work, and the second installment one year thereafter, and so on annually until all are paid. All installments shall bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum.

James H. Danskin,
Commissioner of Special Assessment for East Morton Avenue.

COLONEL LORD NAMED.

Springfield, July 7.—J. W. McGinnis, special agent of the internal revenue service, was in the city Wednesday and turned over the internal revenue collector's office here to Col. John S. Lord, the chief deputy of the late J. R. Mills, who has been appointed acting revenue collector.

There will not be as many changes in the revenue service on account of the death of Mr. Mills as some might think, as most of the employes come under the civil service regulations. All the clerks, gangers and storekeepers are under civil service. The deputies are appointed. From fifty to fifty-five people are employed in this district under Mr. Mills, and the salaries run all the way from $800 to $2,000 a year. The average salary is between $1,200 and $1,400 a year.

A TEXAS WONDER.

One small bottle of the Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, cures diabetes, seminal emissions, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women; regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist it will be sent by mail on receipt of $1. One small bottle is two months' treatment, and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Dr. E. W. Hall, sole manufacturer, P. O. box 629, St. Louis, Mo. Send for testimonials. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

READ THIS:

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1903.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recomended to try a bottle of Teas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

It is Not Always June

The man who said "In time of peace prepare for war" was a shrewd business manager. No better time in the whole year than to day to fill your bin with "Ideal" coal. These hot, sweltering days are reminders of the zero weather that's due here later on—and, confidentially, Ideal coal is a mighty good investment at present prices. While we ourselves might quite naturally be prejudiced about Ideal coal, we don't ask you to trust our judgment. The hundreds who have used it in Jacksonville, and will now se no other, declare it to be the hottest, purest, most dependable softcoal that ever left the mine. We gurantee it. We know it will suit you to perfection. We know you 'll thank your starsnext winter for having filled your bin right now.

ENROUTE TO SAN DOMINGO.

Edward Scott has written the following letter to his father, J. Z. Scott, of Markham, which will be read with interest by his many friends here:

Turk's Island, June 27, '04.—We arrived at Turk's Island this morning. Have had a fine voyage so far; have not been a bit seasick. Binner was a little sick one evening. There are only two Americans besides ourselves on the boat, but we have several Dominicans. One of the Americans is United States Minister Dawson. He is the man who will take Powell's place. We will arrive at Azua a week from to day if we have good luck. This boat has to stop at all the ports at San Domingo. We are only making about 240 miles a day.

JAPANESE PATRIOTISM.

There is one thing in connection with the war in the east that is perfectly transparent.

That is the patriotism of the Japanese. It has been demonstrated in every way and on every occasion. The Japanese are paying their heavy war taxes uncomplainingly. They are contributing liberally of their means. They are not selling their war bonds abroad. They are taken at home.

When the Japanese admiral called for volunteers to man the fire ships that were expected to be destroyed with all their crews, nearly all the sailors wanted to volunteer.

When it was necessary to attack the fortified positions held on the heights by the Russians, after the Japs began their march toward Port Arthur, the Japanese commander knew that mines had been constructed at the foot of the hills, and the chances were that the first to reach the spot would be blown to antoms, and therefore he called for volunteers, representing the danger to which they would be exposed. Nearly every man wanted to be a party to that forlorn hope.

Fortunately those who were selected found that the heavy rains had exposed the mines, they were able to cut the connections and there was not the slaughter from that source that was expected. But there is no doubt the Japanese volunteers would have gone as cheerfully to their deaths as they did later when attacking the strongly fortified Russian positions.

There is something other than Oriental fatalism in such devotion as this. It is patriotism of the highest type.—Peoria Journal.

The pleasant purgative effect of these Tablets makes them a favorite with ladies everywhere. For sale by all leading druggists.

CITY COUNCIL

REGULAR SESSION HELD THURSDAY EVENING.

Mayhon Water Ordinance, New Fire Engine and East State Street Pavement the Principal Business Considered.

Repaving of East State street, the new fire engine and the new Mayhon water proposition were the important matters considered at the council meeting Thursday evening.

After lengthy discussions it was finally decided to refer the petition of the East State street property owners, who asked to have the paving of the street postponed, to the board of local improvement to report back to the council.

The new Metropolitan fire engine was accepted and a motion prevailed for a joint test of the old and new engine next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Mayhon presented his new water proposition which provides for the construction of a lake in the neighborhood of the site of the pumping station, and an ordinance was introduced by Ald. Govein amending the former water ordinance passed, in three essentials, namely: That the source of supply should be the land in the neighborhood of the present pumping station instead of the Illinois river, that the company be given until March 4, 1905, to present a sample of the water for analysis and that the number of hydrants be increased to 300. The ordinance has other minor provisions that differ from the original proposition, but the above are the substantial concessions asked by Mr. Mayhon. After the reading of the ordinance it was referred to the water committee to report to the council at either a special meeting or the next regular meeting.

The city attorney, W. M. Morrisey, presented an ordinance governing the matter of some $99,000 twenty year city bonds maturing April 27, 1905. The city attorney recommended the refunding of these bonds and asked the council to take the necessary steps to legally do the same. The proposition will have to be submitted to a vote of the people.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

The city council met in regular session Thursday evening with Mayor Davis in the chair, all members present except Alds. Johnson and Higgins.

The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were read and approved.

A petition was read from property owners along East State street asking that the resurfacing of East State street pavement be postponed until after the completion of the erection of the public building.

Ald. Govein, seconded by Ald. Vaught, moved the petition be granted.

Mayor Davis stated that he thought that the matter was presented a little late. The council had instructed the board of local improvement to go ahead and have a public hearing in the matter of a pavement on East State street and felt that it was not proper to undo what was done a few weeks ago. The mayor stated he felt the improvement was urgently needed, as the street was in a deplorable condition. He felt that the business men on the street were losing trade by the rough condition of the pavement. He felt that the pavement should at least be laid from the square to the churches.

The contention of the property owners is that the pavement will be injured by the heavy hauling necessary for the public building. This point is hardly well taken. The pavement cannot be constructed for another year and action now is necessary.

Ald. Hildreth was in agreement with the mayor and thought the street needed retopping.

Ald. Kennedy said it was immaterial to him what was done. He had simply presented the petition at the request of one of the property holders.

Ald. Babb favored paving the street as far as Centenary alley.

Ald. Govein thought the street needed repaving from the square to the churches, but was opposed to paving any further distance on the street.

Ald. Vaught was opposed to going any further than the churches originally and he felt now that when the government building is built the pavement in front of the lot will probably be badly torn up and the pavement thereby injured.

Ald. Cobb thought it absolutely necessary to reconstruct the pavement on the street between the square and the churches.

Ald. McGinnis thought if the pavement was relaid to the Pacific hotel it would answer all immediate purposes.

Ald. Ticknor thought the matter should be left in the hands of the board of local improvement to report to the council after having a public hearing.

Ald. Moore never had thought it was necessary to repave beyond the churches, but felt the distance between the square and the churches might be paved at once.

Ald. Doolin favored taking action in the matter to night.

Ald. Hildreth suggested the petition be referred to the board of local improvement.

Ald. Govein accepted the suggestion as a part of his motion, but Ald. Vaught, his second, would not consent, and Ald. Ticknor, seconded the amended motion. Ald. Vaught demanded roll call. The motion carried, Ald. Kennedy and Vaught voting no.

A communication was read from Miss Mary R. Roberts, resigning her position as city matron, and the resignation was accepted.

The fire committee recommended the new fire engine be accepted, as the same had been tested and found satisfactory in every respect.

Ald. Cobb moved the adoption of the report and Ald. Doolin seconded.

Ald. Govein objected and made an amendment, seconded by Ald. Kennedy, that the report be not accepted, but that a test be taken in the presence of the entire council.

Ald. Moore, of the fire committee, said he had witnessed the test on the Fourth of July and was well satisfied. He had tried to get word to all the members of the council that the test was to be held.

Ald. Vaught suggested the committee had paid enough for the engine and it ought to be good.

Ald. Babb said the committee paid $500 less than other cities.

Ald. Kennedy said such talk was all "bull con."

Ald. Kennedy wanted to hear from the chief of the fire department. The chief stated that the test was made and was satisfactory in every respect.

Ald. McGinnis had witnessed the test and had heard many machinists state that the egine was the finest machine brought here.

Ald. Kennedy suggested that the old engine and new engine be taken out and tested together.

Ald. Govein thought that a fair test of the engine was due the citizens of the city.

Ald. Hindreth was ready to vote to accept the engine.

Ald. Kennedy said he was tired of hearing about these fine things. A year or two ago a gentleman came here and said he could bring water from the river and everybody went wild. Now this same gentleman comes back and says it is an impossibility to bring water from the river. This is the way it will be about the engine in a year or two.

Mayor Davis stated that he believed the engine had stood a satisfactory test, but was not opposed to having another test.

The mayor and Ald. Kennedy indulged in a heated colloquy and exchanged compliments to the amusement of the council. The mayor said:

"I am satisfied that the engine is one of the best made and that the Metropolitan company are a responsible company and that if the engine does not prove satisfactoy the Metropolitan company will make it so. I can see no use in requiring the company to send other representatives here after they have made one test which was satisfactory."

Ald. McGinnis for the fire committee spoke in favor of accepting the engine, as it was just what the city had contracted for and the contract had been fulfilled in every particular.

Ald. Goveia desired to be understood in the matter. He was under the impression that the engine had not had a satisfactory test.

On the motion to accept the engine roll call showed all in favor except Ald. Kennedy.

Ald. Goveia, seconded by Ald. Ticknor, moved that a day be set for the testing of both engines. It was ordered that the test be made Monday, July 10, at 4 o'clock.

A communication was read from the Team Owners' union asking that union labor be employed on the streets.

Ald. Kennedy moved that the communication be noticed and only union labor be employed.

Mayor Davis said some question had arisen regarding the wages to be paid for teams and he desired the council to determine this question and fix a scale of wages to be paid.

Ald. Vaught thought the stand of the mayor well taken.

Mr. Pickle had a bill for $4 a day that had not been paid, as the rate this year had been $3.50 for a team. Mr. Pickle was present and stated the union scale was $3.50 for hauling and $4 for work on the grader or scraper. He had been paid this amount last year and went to work this year under the impression that the same rate would be paid.

Ald. Ticknor stated that so far as possible an effort had been made to employ union labor and teams on the street.

Ald. Cobb favored employing union labor and teams.

Ald. Vaught, seconded by Ald. Moore, moved as an amendment that the matter be referred to the mayor, street commissioner and chairman of the highway committee.

Ald. Moore was against exercising favoritism of any kind and was in favor of giving every man who owned a team a chance to employment.

Ald. Moore moved, seconded by Ald. Goveia, an amendment to the amendment that the communication be laid on the table.

Ald. Hildreth favored the original amendment.

Roll call on the last amendment

FRANKLIN SUBSCRIBER

Pleased With World's Fair Letter—Says Information Is Just What People Want.

To the Editor of the Journal: I wish to thank Dr. Goodrick through the columns of the Journal for the very valuable information contained in his letter of July 7.

I have been taking a St. Louis daily since the opening of the fair in search of just such information as the doctor gives us, but up to the present date I have received nothing.

It is so persistently rumored that the price of everything is so exorbitant that many have decided to stay at home rather than submit to daylight robbery.

So far I have failed to get up any enthusiasm regarding the fair, but the doctor's letter changes my opinion very decidedly.

If the worthy gentleman wishes to continue to "grow in grace" (benevolence) he will have his letter published in the city dailies so that "he who runs may read," thereby benefiting hundreds of people who otherwise would give up the delights of the trip.

Again thanking the doctor for his letter and the Journal for publishing it, I am respectfully, A Franklin Subscriber.

FUNERALS

WILEY.

The funeral services over the remains of Thomas Wiley were held at the Christian church Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of friends. Rev. R. F. Thrapp officiated in the solemn service, and a quartet composed of Miss Cora Graham, Miss Georgia Brockman, Herbert J. Henderson and Frank Plouer sang appropriate selections. The many beautiful floral tributes were in charge of Mrs. J. J. Mallen and Miss Lily Mallen.

At the conclusion of the services the remains were taken to Jacksonville cemetery, where they were laid to rest beside the wife and daughter, who had gone before. The bearers were: J. F. Roberts, R. W. Simpson, F. M. Campbell, James McBride, J. F. Brennan and Harry Clement.

Among those from out of the city in attendance at the last sad rites were: R. W. Simpson, of Peoria, and J. F. Roberts, of Springfield, agents of the Adams Express company in their respective cities, and F. M. Campbell, of Springfield, traveling auditor of the C., P. & St. L.

MATRIMONIAL

KENT-HEIMLICH.

The marriage of Mr. Lyman S. Kent and Miss Ida F. Heimlich was solemnized Thursday evening at 6 o'clock in the presence of about thirty near relatives and friends at the home of the bride's parents on South East street.

The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and plants and presented an attractive appearance. The guests assembled in the sitting room, and as Miss Emma Hunter sounded the strains of Mendellsohn's wedding march, the bride and groom entered unattended and took their position in the bay window under a canopy of green dotted with marguerites.

Rev. L. B. Kent, father of the groom, said the solemn words which made them man and wife.

The bride was attired in a handsome gown of white crepe de chine, over taffeta, and carried bride's roses.

After congratulations had been extended the guests partook of a sumptuous wedding supper, served in courses.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Heimlich, and is a young lady of many beautiful traits of character, which have made her popular with a large circle of acquaintances.

Mr. Kent is one of the substantial business men of the city, being the senior member of the Kent-McCarthy company, one of the largest establishments for the manufacture of cigars in the state. They were the recipients of many handsome presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent left on the 8:54 o'clock train via the Wabash for Chicago and will go from there to New York for a trip of three weeks through the east.

Guests from out of the city who attended the wedding were: John Heimlich, Springfield; August Link, Springfield; Mrs. John Aloepser, Colorado Springs; Mrs. Edward Knight, Virginia, and Miss Emma Hunter, Sinclair.

FINLEY-BROWNING.

Scott County Arrow: George Finley and Miss Alice Browning, both of this city, were married in Roodhouse at 8:30 o'clock p. m., Sunday, July 3, by Esquire J. N. English. They will go to the home of the groom's parents in Jacksonville this evening, where a reception will take place.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Finley, of Jacksonville, and is in charge of the Racket store here. He is an enterprising, energetic, young business man.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Browning and has grown up in this city. She is a bright, intelligent, worthy young lady. Their many friends unite in hearty congratulations.

All day market Saturday, next to Hopper & Sons, S. Side Aid.

MERRITT NEWS.

Our national birthday was made the occasion of a very pleasant gathering of neighbors and friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Campbell near Merritt. Games, music and conversation made the hours pass very pleasantly and the swings and hammocks scattered over the lawn added not a little to the pleasure of the day. Shortly before 1 o'clock the ladies produced the contents of well filled lunch baskets and a bountiful dinner was served in true picnic fashion. During the day both old and young remembered that it was the Fourth and fireworks were much in evidence. Late in the afternoon the guests were served with light refreshments on the lawn.

Altogether it was a day full of enjoyment and this Fourth spent at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will always be remembered with pleasure. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Hawk, Mr. and Mrs. William Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. William Morris, Misses Anna Morris, Kittie Stephenon, Georgia Hawk, Persis Hawk and Ina Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Oliver, Misses Mary and Ruth Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morris and daughter, Mrs. Anne Coultas, Mr. and Mrs. John Hawk, Miss Ella Hawk, Dr. and Mrs. West, Albert Hawk and Allen Oliver of Merritt, Misses Carrie Campbell, Annie Watson and Nannie Campbell and Charlie Campbell of Lynnville, and Miss Lida Hawk and Miss Lelia McClellan of East St. Louis.

Miss Nellie Holmes, treasurer of the Young Woman's Temperance Association of Buffalo, N.Y., strongly advises all suffering women to rely, as she did, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Your medicine is indeed an ideal woman's medicine, and by far the best I know to restore lost health and strength. I suffered misery for several years, being troubled with menorrhagia. My back ached, I had bearing-down pains and frequent headaches. I would often wake from restful sleep, and in such pain that I suffered for hours before I could go to sleep again. I dreaded the long nights as much as the weary days. I consulted two different physicians, hoping to get relief, but, finding that their medicine did not seem to cure me, I tried your Vegetable Compound on the recommendation of a friend from the East who was visiting me.

"I am glad that I followed her advice, for every ache and pain is gone, and not only this, but my general health is much improved. I have a fine appetite and have gained in flesh. My earnest advice to suffering women is to put aside all other medicines and to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MISS NELLIE HOLMES, 540 No. Division St., Buffalo, N.Y.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

SIDE LIGHTS ON QUAY

Pennsylvania Senator's Method of Outwitting Reporters.

AN INSTANCE OF HIS BRAVERY.

How His Presence of Mind Stopped a Panic In the Civil War—The Senator's Mythical Namesake—An Experience With a Coach Driver In the Adirondacks.

The late Senator Matthew S. Quay's ability to give newspaper men the slip is shown by the following incident, says the Philadelphia Telegraph.

Senator Quay reached the Stratford House in Philadelphia at 7 p. m. one night. His arrival quickly became known to the newspaper men, who planned to "bottle" him, to the end that he might not escape them, as he had frequently done before. A bold dozen reporters stood watch at the Broad street entrance to the hotel, two others from the Press and Times standing guard at the Walnut street exit. All agreed that the senator was bottled sure. An hour passed, and the Press man fumbled in his vest pocket for a cigar, but could find none. The Times man also fumbled with a like result. The night was cold and the vigil tiresome. A smoke, they agreed, would greatly relieve the tediousness of the watch. They finally decided that it would be safe to leave their post long enough to cross Broad street and "light up" at the Bellevue. They hurriedly crossed and returned, puffing contentedly, to renew the watch.

Another hour passed. Then a Pittsburg correspondent walked up to the group of writers at the Broad street entrance. "What are you fellows doing here?" was his greeting. "Waiting for Quay. Got him bottled up," was the reply. Their confidence, however, gave way to chagrin when told that Quay had left the hotel by the Walnut street door. The group as one man hastened to the watchers at that point to demand an accounting. The latter scoffed. "Quay gone; impossible!" But the truth could not be suppressed. The guilty pair owned up to a dereliction of two minutes' duration. Quay had slipped out in those two minutes. A long and fruitless search for the senator then ensued. At 11 p. m. the "old man" returned to the hotel. The reporters were invited to his room, when Quay stretched both arms above his head and yawned, "Oh, I'm so tired!" That was the extent of the interview. Then it was that a reporter briefly described the offense of the two faithless watchers, closing by saying:

"How would you punish such a delinquency, senator?" There was a merry light in Quay's eyes as he answered: "In the army they shoot a sentinel who deserts his post."

"A great many persons do not know that Senator Quay won a deserved reputation for bravery in the civil war," said Dr. Edward Bedloe at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel to the New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Public Ledger. "It was in the charge upon Marye's heights, where Quay was a volunteer aid-de-camp. When an effort was made to rally the breaking line he noticed a backward movement among the men.

"'D—— it, boys,' he cried, 'what are you dodging for? If I can sit on my horse and the bullets go over my head, they certainly can't hit you!' His presence of mind stopped the panic."

Quay was once riding from Cleveland to Toledo on a train to the rear of which were hitched two immigrant cars, says the New York Press. At 9 o'clock in the evening a man entered the Pullman car where the senator sat and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, a child has just been born in one of the immigrant cars. It's a boy, and, though we are in Ohio, I am a Pennsylvanian. As Senator Quay is on the train, it is proposed to name the baby Quay Cobeleski and that we all chip in and raise a purse for him."

They chipped. Quay contributed $5, saying he was proud of the honor. The man passed on into the next car with $35. An hour later it was learned that no child had been born on the train and that the fellow had raised $80 and dropped off at a way station.

Mr. Quay and a shrewd Adirondack native once figured in the following incident, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. When the senator went to the Adirondacks some time ago to prepare for the return home of his family, he rode up the mountain in a coach that was distressingly tardy and which was following after another that, if possible, was even slower. He chafed for a time at the pace and then hit upon a plan he thought would serve to speed both teams. He leaned over to the driver and offered a dollar if the latter would get ahead of the team in front. The driver smilingly agreed and then raised his voice to say: "Hey, I say, Bill! Bill! Turn yer rig to the side of the road, will yer? There's a guy here says he'll give me a dollar if I pass ye."

British Dogs For Far Eastern War.

Major Richardson, the well known dog owner at Carnoustie, in Forfarshire, has been invited by the Russian government to "let loose the dogs of war" in the most humane sense, says Country Life. Major Richardson has made a specialty of training his dogs for ambulance work and the like, and the Russian government has applied to their trainer to know how many dogs he can supply for immediate service in the far east.

LOVER OF OUTDOOR LIFE.

Physician's Son Returns to Primeval Ways to Regain Strength.

A son of a Portland (Ore.) physician has created a sensation in the scientific world by the startling and novel method of living which he has adopted, and which he advises all to adopt who desire perfect health and a rugged constitution, says the St. Louis Republic. He advocates a return to the primitive way of living by discarding clothing.

Ernest W. Darling, a son of Dr. J. W. Darling of Portland, is the man who advocates the return to the ways primeval. Until a year ago he lived in Portland, but was compelled to seek a sunnier clime on account of his health. For the past year he has lived on the summit of a hill on the outskirts of Los Angeles, Cal. He does not occupy a house nor even a tent. The sole habitation of which he can boast is a bed that consists of a hole in the ground of about 7 by 4 feet and 2 feet in depth. In that peculiar place, wrapped in blankets, he seeks rest. He is an ardent lover of nature and believes that by his method of living he is able to commune more closely with its invisible forms and at the same time build up his constitution, which was shattered by disease.

"Good health is the first requisite for religion or anything else," he says, when questioned concerning his novel ideas. "I firmly believe that if we take perfect care of our health, avoiding all accident or disease, we shall live eternally in these bodies of ours. Every person should learn gradually to live outdoors and to live on natural food—that is, food just as it comes from the hand of nature.

"The objects in living on natural food are:

"First.—To make us more natural in thought and in action.

"Second.—From an economical standpoint, it is far cheaper where these fruits grow. It is well known by travelers in the tropics that we can live on $1 a month or less.

"Third.—There is a very decided humanitarian issue in this diet. No animal has to suffer imprisonment and final slaughter in order to feed the fruitarian. The fruitarian will take his meal directly from the tree and eat."

When he left Portland a year ago Mr. Darling weighed ninety pounds, while now he weighs in the neighborhood of 175 pounds. It was done without a drop of medicine.

He rises at daylight, takes a quick cold shower bath, then runs half a mile or so, throwing off superfluous clothing. Then he goes through a series of calisthenic exercises before eating breakfast of fruit. He declares that he eats regularly three times each day and always has a good appetite.

WEDDING OUTFIT FOR $9.75

What Salvation Army Provides For Poor Couples In Chicago.

The Salvation Army of Chicago has provided for willful young couples who insist upon uniting their ill fortunes a system of stores for providing household necessities which furnish clothing outfits and furnishings for the house for a total of $9.75, says a Chicago special dispatch.

The young protege of the army may go to one of the seven salvage stores in the city and invest his money as follows:

Shoes	$0.25	Vest	$0.10
Shirt	.10	Hat	.10
Underclothes	.10
Pantaloons	.25	Total	$1.15
Coat	.25

Odds and ends from the finery of wealthy women are at the bride's disposal at these prices:

Waist	$0.25	Jacket	$0.25
Skirt	.10	Hat	.10c. to .25
Shoes	.15
Underclothing	.10	Total	.95c. to $1.10

These prices prevail for furniture:

Bedstead	$1.00	Stoves	$1 to $3.00
Mattress	.25	Lamps	.10
Spring	.50	Quilts	.10
Washstand	.50
Chairs, each	.25	Total	$7.50

It is not stated just what effect the army's new idea is expected to have on prospective brides and grooms.

ONE OF STANLEY'S GIFTS.

How the Late African Explorer Judged Men.

Some men can judge of another man's capacity at first sight. The late Sir Henry M. Stanley had the gift, of which this anecdote is an illustration. When Archibald R. Colquhoun, who is the author of "Greater America," just published by the Harpers, was in the service of the India office he called one day upon the late Sir Edwin Arnold and met Stanley there. They talked together a few moments and parted. Next morning a telegram reached Colquhoun from Stanley asking him to call at once.

He did so and was greeted without formality and with the following bulletlike sentence: "Will you go to the Kongo Free State as second in command?" Colquhoun expressed his amazement at Stanley's confidence in him upon so slight an acquaintance. "I always make up my mind at once about men," replied the explorer. Mr. Colquhoun could not accept, as the India office declined giving him leave of absence. Had he gone he would have been the first governor of the Kongo Free State.

Calve's Sanitarium.

Mme. Emma Calve has founded a sanitarium at Cabrieres, near her residence in the Aveyron, says the Paris Daily Messenger. There nearly sixty young girls in need of pure air and medical attendance are received every summer, all the expenses being borne by the great singer. It is reported that burglars have paid a visit to the sanitarium and removed everything they could lay their hands on. Mme. Calve has nevertheless given instructions for the preparation of the sanitarium for the reception of the annual contingent of sick girls.

For children's rooms there are all sorts of interesting wall coverings, chief among which are the Cecil Aldin's English nursery parlors. These contain not only the pictures of those old familiar friends, Red Riding Hood, Jack and Jill, Jack Horner and their companions, but the verses to each as well. A pretty paper is made to simulate Dutch tiling in the delft blue, every other tile showing a scene from Mother Goose, those between being white with a single little blue figure upon them.

Care of Lace Curtains.

The too frequent washing of lace curtains is one of the mistakes of housekeepers. An interval of two or even three years may elapse between the launderings. In the "off times" they should be pinned on the clotheslines on a clear, windy day and allowed to remain until all the dust has been whipped out of them. Then they may be packed away for the summer in a pillowcase which has been dipped in bluing until it is a perfect indigo. By this means they will come out in the fall fresh and crisp.

Useful Things to Know.

Always keep fat in tin, never in earthen or agate ware.

Brooms should be dipped once every week in strong soapsuds. This treatment keeps them from getting brittle and makes them much easier on carpets.

A little borax put in the water in which red bordered towels are to be washed will prevent them from fading.

To remove grass stains saturate the spots with alcohol, then wash in clear water.

To Clean Mattresses.

If the mattress is stained, put in the sun and cover the spots with a thick paste made by wetting laundry starch with cold water. Leave for an hour or two, and then rub off. If not perfectly clean, repeat.

Fancy denim or cretonne sofa pillow covers can be cleansed in the same way.

To Keep Ribbons Fresh.

An excellent way of caring for ribbons is to wind them upon spools large enough to hold them without folding in the interval of wearing them. For the broad sash ribbons a bit of old broomstick answers very well.

SEVEN BARKS

Is not a new, untried remedy. It has been on the American market for more than 30 years. It is the most popular household remedy known. Why? Because it is genuine, honest, powerful, thorough, harmless, quick in action and easy to take—the doses are very small.

CURES

CHRONIC DYSPEPSIA.

Mrs. Mary J. DeGross, of New York City, in a voluntary letter to Mr. Lyman Brown says:

"For years I have been a chronic dyspeptic. Have taken more kinds of medicine than I can remember, but Seven Barks has proven to be the best. The relief it gives me is speedy and certain. I feel bright and well after its use, the effect is so good."

We have thousands of equally as complimentary letters.

SPECIAL OFFER. If you suffer from headaches, kidney or liver troubles, biliousness, dyspepsia or any of the kindred ailments; buy a 50 cent bottle of Seven Barks and try it. If the result is not entirely satisfactory take the bottle back and get your money. The druggist will cheerfully refund it.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

MATHENY & LLOYD.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, July 7.—Wheat—The market was active and trade of good volume. Feeling was strong and still higher prices were recorded; most of which were maintained. Wet weather was chief bull influence and shorts covered freely. Locals reinstated lines liquidated yesterday.

Corn—Good trade, close showing July up ⅞c, September ⅝@¾c higher. Small receipts, wet, cool weather, with more moisture indicated and advance in wheat combined to create a bullish feeling. Shorts covered freely at the start and commission houses were good buyers.

Oats—Oats advanced in sympathy with other grains, and on wet weather southwest and in Ohio valley. There was larger and more general commission house trade and active covering by shorts. Profit-taking by the largest holders was a feature, but failed to check the advance. The close showed gains of ¼@¾c.

FINANCIAL NEWS.

New York, July 7.—To day's stock market was reactionary again and there was very obvious and very heavy liquidation to take profits on the advance of the last two days. The reaction was only partly effective in early dealings and the market protected by bidding up special stocks here and there, but this policy became less effective as the day advanced and the reaction became general. There were some unpropitious features in the day's news, but not more so than yesterday, when they proved powerless to effect an upward tendency of prices. The reaction may be said to be due, as much as to anything, to a feeling of distrust of the character of the previous advance. Wall street is traditionally suspicious of "crop scares" at this time of the year. But much more effect was produced on speculative sentiment to day by the persistent strength in wheat than was the case yesterday. Somewhat alarming reports were circulated of damage by rains and floods in the southwest. Closing quotations:

Money on call at 1@1¼ per cent; closing bid, 1; offered at 1¼. Time loans easy; sixty days at 2 per cent; ninety days at 2¼@2½; six months at 3¼.

Prime paper at 3½@4.

Exchange steady; Demand at 487.25@487.30; sixty days at 485.30@485.35.

Bar silver at 58¼.

SAGE RAPS VACATIONS

Financier Opposes Them and Discusses System's Injustice.

SEES NOTHING LEGITIMATE IN IT

Thinks the "Vacation Habit" Is the Outgrowth of Abnormal or Distorted Business Methods—If There Is Any Obligation, He Claims, It Is on Clerk's Part—Believes Change of Work Best Recuperation.

During the eighty-eight years of my career I have not once taken a vacation, says Russell Sage in the Independent.

A young man said to me the other day, "Mr. Sage, would you not have taken a vacation if you had worked for some one else?"

I replied that I would not.

I have never been an advocate of what some term the "vacation habit." When I was a boy the practice was not in vogue. As a matter of fact, I was so glad to get a chance to learn business, that the idea of asking my employer to make me a present of two weeks of the time that belonged to him because he had paid for it would have been preposterous. Besides, I was eager to advance in business and could not see how I could do this by wasting valuable time.

Neither did any of my youthful associates take vacations, and I am sure you will agree with me that the fact did not retard their progress when I say that among them were Thurlow Weed, the king maker; Horace Greeley, Governor Seward and George Jones, the founder of the New York Times. These men were constantly at work, and they were history makers.

I think the "vacation habit" is the outgrowth of abnormal or distorted business methods. I fail to see anything legitimate in it.

Let us assume that an employer and his clerk make an agreement to exchange just remuneration for reasonable services, and each one keeps his part of the agreement. Are they not then quits? If there is any obligation, I think it is on the part of the clerk, who avails of the credit, skill and organization of the employer to learn a business and advance himself along a path which has already been prepared for him. What right has he, then, to demand or expect pay for two weeks' time for which he renders no equivalent, not considering the serious inconvenience to which he often puts his employer?

Suppose we were to reverse the conventional order of things and instead of the clerk demanding two weeks' pay gratis the employer should demand two weeks' work without pay as a condition of retaining the clerk in his employ. What a tremendous howl would go up!

It may be urged that the clerk by his vacation gains in health and vigor and is thus enabled to render better service to his employer. If this claim were true, he would be justified in asking for a vacation. In fact, he would not have to do so, as his employer would for his own gain and of his own accord send him away thus to recuperate.

But is it not absurd to suppose that a man who can work for eleven and a half months cannot as well work the whole year? Is it not equally absurd to suppose that a man can in two weeks recuperate from the wear and tear of a year's work, if there be such wear and tear? On the contrary, I have too often observed that men will while on their vacations make inroads upon their vitality and purses that cannot be repaired in the following eleven months and two weeks.

Then, again, the loss of time, the disorganization of business, that result from the absence of a valuable man from his desk are difficult to repair. A man sometimes must spend weeks catching up with work that has accumulated while he was away for a fortnight.

If a man will only take an interest in his work, love it, he will not need anything else to recuperate him, and men who learn to love their work invariably succeed.

A man should work "easy," be economical of his time, conserve his forces and not worry. It's worry and not work that makes the hair gray.

The doctors may recommend a change of air for a man when he's sick, but why be sick? Sickness is an irreparable loss of time. If I had a thousand tongues I'd preach "Save time" with them all. It's infinitely more valuable than money.

We read of Gladstone, who got all the recuperation he needed by simply changing his work. He didn't quit work and go idling about. Time was the most precious thing in the world for him, and by availing of every minute of it he practically did the work of an army of men.

Roman Alphabet In Japan's Schools.

An important step in the progress of Japan is apparently about to be taken in the compulsory teaching of the Roman alphabet as well as a Romanized Japanese alphabet in the government primary schools, says the Washington Times. This work has been done to some extent already in the universities, but if this proposal of the education department be adopted the Romanization of the Japanese language is not far distant, for the next generation of Japanese of all classes will be familiar with the Latin alphabet. It is difficult to realize all that this will mean to the nation. It will simplify political and commercial relations and will render western thought and literature accessible to the bulk of the people.

JAPAN'S PREPAREDNESS.

Her Mechanical Engineer Says Plans For War Were Made Long Ago.

A. F. White, who is employed by the Japanese government as mechanical engineer at the government shipyard at Tokyo and who was recently in Washington on his way to England for a vacation of a few weeks, is decidedly optimistic regarding the outcome of the war between Japan and Russia and is confident Japan will be victorious, says the New York Times.

"Only those who have been in Japan," he said, "can form any idea of the preparedness of that country for the present war with Russia. Japan's army and navy officers have been studying strategy for years with a view to this very fight. They are executing every day plans the formation of which they began years ago.

"The Japanese feel that they are fighting for their very lives. They are not boastful or overconfident. They were convinced that they were superior to the Russians on sea, but that they would easily be victorious on land they did not expect.

"Every man in Japan capable of carrying a gun expects to be called on and is ready to respond promptly. The method of recruiting the Japanese army in the spring was to run trains through the country, stopping at certain specified places to take on recruits. Upon arrival in Tokyo, Osaka or some of the other cities which were selected as places of rendezvous they marched to a temple which had been set aside for the purpose. Each man would have a number, and within the temple he would find the duplicate of that number pinned to a bundle of clothing and an entire outfit, including a gun. He went in the temple a recruit, fresh from the fields, and in a few minutes he emerged a soldier, for these were all reserves. Each man's personal clothing was returned to his family carefully packed and at the government's expense. The whole system was perfect. It went like clockwork."

JOKAI'S LAST STORY.

How Hungarian Author Found His Long Sought Monte Carlo Tale.

Accompanied by sorrowing multitudes, which included kings and princes, nobles and peasants and gypsies, whom the poet loved not least, Maurus Jokai, the darling of the Hungarian people, has been carried to his last resting place, beside Deak and Andrassy, says a Budapest dispatch to the New York Herald.

On the morning which was his last, though the weakening effects of the pneumonia from which he suffered was apparent, Jokai awoke fresh and clear in mind to delight those who crowded about the sick bed with the sketch of his last story.

"I have had such a wonderful dream," began the poet, with a merry twinkle in eyes which were bright to the last, "and I have found my Monte Carlo story at last."

This was a reference to the fact that he passed several weeks of the early spring in Nice and had been rather disappointed with the budget of stories which he had sent home, though his readers were not.

"I dreamed," he continued, "that I won 800,000 francs. I dreamed that I put all the money in a bag and, looking neither to the right nor to the left, started for home. Not a copper of it would I spend until I reached the Magyar land.

"I clutched that bag in my hand all the way home, and only when I saw the tall hill of Buda, only then, I opened it to find—what do you think? Only rejected manuscripts, more than I had ever seen or even imagined."

"Ah," exclaimed the delighted listeners, "how do you think that happened? How could it have been abstracted?"

"Oh," answered the poet, "that is the story. I have only told you the facts." But in a few hours the tireless brain was at rest, and that story will never be written.

Seal For the Philippines.

The department of state has about decided on a permanent colonial seal for the Philippine Islands, says a Washington special dispatch to the New York Post. It uses the United States shield as a background, against which is projected a shield bearing the ancient arms of the city of Manila, slightly altered by omitting the Spanish crown and substituting an eagle for a crest. The upper half of the shield has a yellow or golden castle against a red field. The lower half contains a composite animal with the head and foreward extremities of a lion, grasping with the right claws a hilted sword, and the lower body and tail of a dolphin.

Boer Patriot a Kansas Farmer.

General William Fouche, Boer patriot, is now a Kansas farmer. He has purchased a quarter section of land near Geneseo, in Ellsworth county, and took possession of the property a few days ago, says the Topeka Capital. The purchase by General Fouche is said to mean that a Boer colony will be located there. General Fouche is in correspondence with former companions in arms who are still in South Africa and who have been waiting for General Fouche to find a suitable location before they came to America with their families.

PATENT MEDICINES.

A man that compounds or invents something that is just a little better than the next best thing, is certainly entitled to the best share of the profits to be derived from the sale of the article. So he patents or copyrights to protect his interests. Patented goods are good goods, poor goods are never patented. We have 20 years of trial behind us to give us the assurance that we have the best medicine compounded for the cure of dyspepsia, sick-headache, biliousness, indigestion and all stomach disorders. We protect the public as well as ourselves by keeping the formula a secret, as long as we make it we know it is made right and it cures these diseases. Druggists tell us that it is the one medicine that the sale is ever on the increase. To get the best remedy for dyspepsia or indigestion ask the druggists for Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, price 25c per box, only one for a dose. For sale by Lee P. Allcott.

was lost, Ald. Moore and Goveia only voting aye.

Roll call on the amendment showed the same result.

The original motion was put and carried.

All properly approved bills were ordered paid on motion of Ald. Cobb.

Reports of the city officers were read and placed on file.

Under the reports of standing committees Ald. Goveia, chairman of the water department, suggested the city buy a horse for use of the department.

An ordinance was read changing the name of Carter street to Voorhees street.

Ald. Doolin moved the passage of the ordinance.

With the emergency clause attached was passed.

Ald. Babb offered an amendment that the name of the both streets be changed for Carter and Voorhees streets to Doolin avenue.

Ald. Vaught moved, seconded by Ald. Moore, that the matter be referred to the highway committee, and Ald. Cobb suggested the substitution of the words highway committee to alderman of the First ward. Motion carried.

The city attorney called the attention of the council to the fact that $99,000 twenty year city bonds would mature April 27, 1905, and that as bonds can be refunded at a cheaper rate the city attorney recommended the passage of an ordinance calling a special election for the purpose of refunding these bonds.

An ordinance was read providing for such an election.

On motion of Ald. Ticknor the ordinance was referred to the ordinance committee and city attorney.

An ordinance was read and introduced by Ald. Goveia providing for the amendment of the ordinance known as the Mayhon ordinance and amending it in three essentials.

Mr. Mayhon was present and addressed the council. He stated in substance: "Our engineer has examined sources of water supply for this city both from the river and from Mauvaisterre creek. The report of this engineer, while not complete, has been laid before the gentlemen who proposes to furnish the money for the enterprise and they are willing to go ahead with the construction of the proposition if the ordinance can be amended so as to change the source of supply from the river to the present site of the city pumping station.

"These gentlemen also ask that the number of hydrants be increased to 300 within a period of three years.

"The third amendment asked is that the time for submitting a sample of water be extended to March 4, 1905.

"The dam to be constructed would be located above the place where the brook enters Mauvaisterre creek.

"The dam would make a small lake thirty feet in depth and the bottom of this lake would be covered with a thick layer of gravel.

"Engines and boilers, etc., would be located about where the present pumping station stands.

"The proposition involves buying or condemning 500 to 1,000 acres of land. A large portion of this land can be beautified and used as a park. Lakes of this character have been constructed at Galesburg and other places and Mr. Gerould informs me that the prospect for a successful source of supply is far better than in the places mentioned.

"I have got my hand on the money and the work can be done in 120 days if you will take the needed action."

Ald. Babb, seconded by Ald. Hildeth, moved the matter be referred to the water committee.

Ald. Kennedy thought that the matter ought to be referred to a vote of the people.

Ald. Moore favored the motion.

Ald. Cobb thought that if the river proposition was impracticable then the proposition submitted by Mr. Mayhon is a good one. If, however, there is money in it for him there is money in it for our home people.

The motion to refer to water committee carried, Ald. Kennedy voting no.

Ald. Babb raised the question of the railroads on Illinois avenue leaving cars standing on the tracks longer than the law requires. Merchants along the avenue were objecting to the obstruction.

Ald. Hildreth moved adjournment and the motion carried.

OFFICERS' REPORTS.

discriminations, keeping in view the ultimate end of the 'equality of burdens and equality of opportunities,' and the constitutional purposes of raising revenue by taxation, to-wit: the support of the federal government in all its integrity and virility, but in simplicity, and keeping also in view, as men of common sense should, existing conditions, however wrongfully, mistakenly or unjustly brought about, and danger to the cause of tariff reform itself of an abrupt and revolutionary reversal of polisy.

"We should bear in mind, in short, these two things: First, the general principle and sole derivation of the power of taxation is the support of the federal government economically, effectively and constitutionally administered; second, the equal truth that in the assertion of any general principle and in reaching any ultimate end, however sacred and logically unavoidable, due regard, but only due regard, must and should be paid to existing conditions.

"5. We favor reduction of tariff taxation upon trust-produced articles to a point where foreign competition may enter the American market whenever trusts and combines, seeking monopoly, raise their prices to the American consumer above a reasonable and just profit; by such reduction depriving trusts and monopolies of the power to extort from the American people, under the shelter of American law, prices higher than those charged foreigners for identical articles.

FINANCIAL.

"The discoveries of gold within the past few years and the great increase in the production thereof, adding two thousand million dollars to the world's supply, of which seven hundred million falls to the share of the United States, has contributed to the maintenance of the money standard of value, no longer open to question, removing that issue from the field of political contention.

"Our party having long and earnestly advocated the construction of an interoceanic canal for the purpose of national defense and commerce between states and with foreign nations, we favor the early completion of the isthmian canal.

"But, while making the declaration and accepting the result as an accomplished and irreversible fact, we cannot too forcibly express our disapproval of the methods by which, in disregard of the usages and obligations of international law and treaty obligations, the canal route has been acquired or too solemnly record our hopes that this precedent of defiant diplomacy may never be used against us to our humiliation and injury.

"We recognize that the gigantic trusts and combinations designed to enable capital to secure more than its just share of the joint product of capital and labor, and which have been fostered and promoted under Republican rule, are a menace to beneficial competition and an obstacle to prevent business prosperity.

"We demand vigorous and impartial enforcement of the laws already made to prevent and control such trusts and combinations, and we favor such further legislation in restraint thereof as experience shows to be necessary.

"Corporations chartered by authority of the people must forever remain subject to regulation in the interest of the people.

"Private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. We recognize the right of capital, in all legitimate lines of enterprise to combine for the increase of business for enlarging productive capacity and decreasing cost of production; but when such combination in its purpose or effect creates or tends to create monopoly in its productions, to restrain trade or stifle competition, to increase the cost to the consumer or control the market, it violates the spirit of our laws, becomes inimicable to public welfare and peace and should be so regulated, controlled or prohibited by law so as to protect public interest.

"We demand that the restraint of such illegal combinations be entrusted to the Democratic party, which is not responsible for their existence, and which has ever protested against their continuance.

"We condemn the Republican system of legislation under which trust monopolies are enabled to exact higher prices for their manufactured products from our own people than they sell them for abroad.

"We demand the enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission, to the end that the traveling public and shippers of this country may have prompt and adequate relief for the abuses they are subjected to in the matter of transportation.

"We favor the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine in its full integrity.

"We favor a liberal trade treaty with Canada.

"We favor reduction of the army and army expenditure to a point historically demonstrated to be safe and sufficient.

"We favor the maintenance and liberal annual increase of the navy as our best defense in our isolated continental condition against the foreign foe and a source of no possible danger to our liberties as a people.

"We favor the enactment and administration of laws giving labor and capital impartially their just rights. Capital and labor ought not to be enemies. Each is necessary to the other. Each has its rights, but the rights of labor are certainly no less 'vested' no less 'sacred' and no less 'inalienable' than the rights of capital.

"We pledge ourselves to insist upon just and lawful protection of our citizens at home and abroad, and to use all proper measures to secure for them, whether native born or naturalized, and without distinction of race or creed, equal protection o flaws and the enjoyment of all rights and privileges open to them under the covenants of our treaties of friendship and commerce; and if under existing treaties the right of travel and sojourn is denied to American citizens or recognition is withheld from American passports by any countries on the ground of race or creed, we favor the beginning of negotiations with the governments of such countries to secure by new treaties the removal of these unjust discriminations.

"The Democracy would secure to surviving soldiers and sailors and their dependents generous pensions, not by an arbitrary executive order, but by legislation which a grateful people stand ready to enact.

"Our soldiers and sailors who defended with their lives the constitution and laws have a sacred interest in their just administration. They must, therefore, share with us the humiliation with which we have witnessed the exaltation of court favorites, without distinguished service, over the scarred heroes of many battles; or aggrandized by executive appropriations out of the treasuries of a prostrate people in violation of the act of congress which fixes the compensation and allowances of military officers.

SHIP SUBSIDY.

"We denounce the ship subsidy bill recently passed by the United States senate as an iniquitous appropriation of public funds for private purposes and a wasteful, illogical and useless attempt to overcome by subsidy the obstructions raised by Republican legislation to the growth and development of American commerce on the sea.

"We favor the upbuilding of a merchant marine without new or additional burdens upon the people and without bounties from the public treasury.

"The Democratic party stands committed to the principles of civil service reform and we demand their honest, just and impartial enforcement.

"We denounce the Republican party for its continuous and sinister encroachments upon the spirit and operation of civil service rules whereby it has arbitrarily dispensed with examinations for office in the interest of favorites and employed all manner of devices to overreach and set aside the principles upon which civil service was established.

"We demand the extermination of polygamy within the jurisdiction of the United States and complete separation of church and state in political affairs.

"We congratulate our western citizens upon the passage of the measure known as the Newlands irrigation act for the irrigation and reclamation of arid lands of the west—a measure framed by a Democrat, passed in the senate by a nonpartisan vote and passed in the house against the opposition of almost all of the Republicans by a vote the majority of which was Democratic.

OPEN DOOR.

"We favor the preservation in so far as we can of the open door for the world's commerce in the orient without unnecessary entanglement in oriental and European affairs and without arbitrary, unlimited, irresponsible and absolute government anywhere within our jurisdiction. We oppose, as fervently as did George Washington himself, an indefinite, irresponsible, discretionary and vague absolutism and policy of colonial exploitation, no matter where or by whom invoked or exercised; we believe, with Thomas Jefferson and John Adams, that no government has the right to make one set of laws for those 'at home' and a different set of laws, absolute in their character, for those 'in colonies.' All men under the American flag are entitled to the protection of the institutions whose emblem the flag is; if they are inherently unfit for those institutions, then they are inherently unfit to be members of the American body politic. Wherever there may exist a people incapable of being governed under American laws, in consonance with the American constitution, the territory of that people ought not to be a part of the American domain.

THE PHILIPPINES.

"We insist we ought to do for the Filipinos what we have already done for the Cubans and as soon as it can be done wisely and safely for the Filipinos themselves and after amicable arrangements with them concerning naval stations, coaling stations and trade relations, and upon suitable guarantees of protection to all national and international interests, to set the Filipino people upon their feet, free and independent, to work out their own destiny.

"We favor statehood for Oklahoma, the Indian territory, Arizona, New Mexico and a territorial government for Porto Rico.

"We favor election of United States senators by direct vote of the people."
